

You bought the wings. We built the continent to fly them on.

To every owner of a gyrocopter — wherever in the world you keep her. Full picture at www.mysky.africa.

You bought her for the dream. Coastlines, deserts, deltas, bush. The kind of country no airliner ever shows you and no 4x4 will ever take you to. That was the brochure. That was the YouTube edit. That was the reason the cheque got signed.

Then most of you flew her 30 to 60 hours a year, same home strip, same 50nm of weekend airspace. Not because you stopped wanting more — because more meant a freight forwarder, a customs broker, a ferry pilot, an insurance rewrite, a foreign AOC, fuel chains in three languages and lodge bookings you do yourself. The dream became logistics. The logistics became the hangar.

We built MySky.africa to end that — and we built it for the roughly 5,000 to 7,000 of you with a gyroplane registered somewhere on earth. One club, one continent, your aircraft or ours, one invoice per trip that includes the AOC, the customs, the fuel, the insurance and the lodge. You arrive. You fly.

Founder seats are capped at 50 globally. The first twelve are reserved by invitation. This letter is how the rest are filled.
